Congenital macular epidermal cysts are a rare disorder characterized by solitary, dome-shaped, and solitary lesions located in the macula of the retina. A case is presented with cyst in the left eye of a 5-year-old boy with pediatrician's slit lamp in Taiwan. After medical management including topical steroids for 2 months, the cyst showed spontaneous resolution. This is the first report of a congenital macular epidermal cyst diagnosed by slit lamp in Taiwan.If a 6-foot-6 outfielder has some success this season, we'll know who deserves to be in the MVP conversation. This has been the most difficult award to choose, and maybe that will lead to the award being dropped in the future. There are usually at least five nominees, but I had them narrowed down to the top five a few weeks ago. It's still a five-man race, but -- from here on out -- the gaps are going to be a lot smaller. This is baseball's version of the pro wrestling "Triple Threat" match -- they're a No. 1 seed, a No. 2 seed and then a No. 3 seed. So it's a matter of which one has a better chance to make a run to the postseason. This is still a five-man race, but we're seeing why the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 spots might narrow this much: 1. Mike Trout, Angels: He may not even be the best player in this race, but we're going to call it a five-man race. He's an MVP candidate at 24,
